REPORT.

In giving some account of the events marking the year 1869 in connection with this Institution, the question which first demands our attention is the welfare of the pupils, as arising, under the blessing of God, from their own religious and moral conduct, and from their diligence in pursuit of their various occupations. In both these respects there has been much cause for satisfaction, and with few exceptions diligence and good feeling have prevailed.

On the 31st of last December there were 46 pupils in the Institution, besides 10 out-door workers. During the course of the year 4 male and 3 female pupils have left, and 5 males and 7 females have been admitted. Failing health was in four cases the cause for leaving—one of these invalids has since died. A pupil who had completed his full term of seven years at the Institution, and maintained throughout an excellent character, has now opened a shop in Worcester for the sale of baskets and brushes. He is also partly employed in teaching the blind at an Institution in that town. One of the female pupils has also since her leaving been employed in teaching basket making to the blind.

The Chaplain, the Rev. Canon Knight, says: "I have much pleasure in stating, that the marked improvement of the senior female pupils, which was noticed in the last Report, has been maintained to the present time; and that the progress of the other pupils has been as satisfactory as for many years preceding.

"The first class of male pupils have read, during the year, about half of the first book of Kings and the whole of the book of Proverbs. The second class, half of the book of Genesis and the whole of St. John's Gospel. The third class, the book of Genesis and the first book of Samuel. The senior female class have read the book of Joshua and the book of Proverbs. The second class, the books of Genesis and Deuteronomy, and about half of the Gospel according to St. Matthew. The third class, the book of Exodus and the Gospels according to St. Matthew and St. Luke.

"The senior pupils passed in all these portions of scripture a full and intelligent examination; and the younger ones did equally well, in proportion to the time they have been under instruction.

"I have continued my weekly Catechetical Lecture from the second Epistle of St. John to the end of the Apocalypse, with a few chapters in St. Matthew's Gospel; having thus, for the second time, concluded my lectures on the New Testament, and recommenced it once more; and I continue to obtain from most of my hearers very satisfactory proofs of their attention."

The past year has been one of considerable difficulty for Mr. Barrett, who still takes the charge of the instruction in Music. He says—"I am happy to commend the pupils for their general good conduct and earnest individual efforts to attain proficiency on the piano-forte, harmonium, and organ. Seventeen males and 11 females are now receiving instruction from myself and blind assistant teachers, whose zealous aid I can warmly praise.

"The choir has been able to sustain the choral services in the chapel, and the Monday rehearsals of sacred music have been uninterrupted. Much inconvenience has been felt from the sudden withdrawal of the late blind organist and teacher without previous notice. This obliged me to take myself for some months the chapel services until I could prepare other pupils to a degree of proficiency sufficient for presiding at the organ. There are now three youths, each of them competent to this duty, and amongst all the members of the choir there exists a strong desire and effort for improvement."

The Committee have again to express their thanks for two presents of piano-fortes, one from the Misses Mackerel, and the other from the Rev. J. H. Mitchell, both highly acceptable and useful. Miss Farlar also, at her last concert, again set apart a portion of space, enabling nearly all the pupils to enjoy the excellent music she provides for her audience.

The difficulty experienced for some three years in finding sale for the productions of the pupils, and particularly of the heavier kinds of basket work, has in this last year yet more increased, in great measure owing to boxes taking the place of baskets. The Committee would earnestly impress on their subscribers and well-wishers that they are able to execute such work as the covering of jars, cans, &c., and the making of large baskets to an extent far beyond the present demand.

In the course of the year £369 12s. 6d. have been received as legacies, the whole of which sum has been used in the discharge of current expenses, in addition to which there still remains £187 5s. 3d. due to the Treasurer, so much do the annual outgoings exceed the regular income.

The well-wishers of the Institution are earnestly requested to give their aid in obtaining sale for the productions of the pupils, and in increasing the list of annual subscribers.
